Red color with deep blue hues. In the nose, it shows aromas of bright red fruit, ripe plum and cassis combined with touches of coffee and vanilla. The palate is firm, with a tannic structure that gives it character, making it a long, persistent wine. Pair with pastas and meats, including lasagna, ravioli, fettuccini, pork, veal and beef.

ABOUT VINA ARESTI

Vina Aresti was founded in 1951 by Vincente Aresti when he purchased a winery in the historic winemaking Curicó Valley. In 2012, his daughters Begona and Ana Marfa Aresti took over. They have continued their dad's push to produce quality wines, obtaining international quality certifications (ISO 9001, ISO14001, BRC, HACCP) and Wines of Chile's environmental sustainability certification.

ABOUT CURICO VALLEY

Curico Valley is located in central Chile. The valley's climate is varied. The eastern part - closer to the Andes Mountains - is cooler than the western as it benefits from breezes coming down from the slopes of the Andes. The meltwater rivers Lontue and Teno that flow through Curico Valley before converging to form the Mataquito River have a significant effect on viticulture here. The region's soils are derived from limestone and volcanic rock from the Andes and have been deposited in the valley over time by the rivers (alluvial) as well as by gravity (colluvial).
