the vineyard: Gaia-Principe & Cottà are two crus (MGA) of the municipality of Neive. There are total 7 parcels of Nebbiolo, facing West (Cottà), East & North-East (Gaia-Principe) with the oldest vineyard planted on the top of the hill of the latter cru.

the vintage: 2022 was the hottest and driest vintage in Piedmont as in all of Italy in the last 200 years (since climate data have been collected). These two main factors primarily influenced the length of the growing season, making it shorter, and the quality of the grapes - less rain means less must, excessive sun and high temperatures mean thicker skins and a higher concentration of aromatic precursors.

the variety: the Nebbiolo is the King of the Langhe, renowned all over the world for the unique, rich and ageworthy wines that it can produce. It's variety that shows best all the differences between the places where it grows.

the wine: for this vintage we stuck to the old method of separate aging of the two different crus until bottling.

the name: Duicru in Piedmontese means «two crus». In this vintage the proportions between the two crus in the blend are roughly 50% Gaia-Principe, 50% Cottà Nebbiolo Rosé.
